April 7, 2017

It's time for elections! Please come to the April 20 monthly meeting and vote for six of our 12 board members. Bob Allen, Blaine Nisson and Holly Chorba are on the nominating committee's slate to replace departing board members Jane Winkenwerder, Carl Sparfeld and Debbi Sinclair.

Meet the Candidates

Robert Allen

Bob and his wife, Nancy, moved to Green Valley in May of 2016 from Maine, where they had been in retirement since 2006.

He attended St. Lawrence University and graduated with a degree in Physics. His career was in Vacuum coating and Thin Film Technology. He retired from a major US glass coating operation as Process and Technology Manager.

His interest in Photography started by following his father, an amateur photographer, on photo shoots, and then assisting in the darkroom for developing and printing.

Bob joined the Camera Club last summer and participates in the Tuesday morning "Give it Your Best Shot" by submitting pictures to be reviewed. He is also currently taking one class and plans to take others as offered.

During his time in Maine, he was Chairman of the trustees at his Church, and volunteered at the Habitat for Humanity Re-Store. He also volunteered as a docent on the Maine Eastern Railroad. Currently, he serves on the Technical Board of The Green Valley Water District, sings in his Church choir. He does woodworking, plays the organ, has yet to set up his Model Railroad.

Holly Chorba

I look forward to being on the Green Valley Camera Club Board of Director again. I have been a member of the Club since 2005; been the Travelogue Coordinator since 2008; and served on the Board from 2010-2013. I occasionally teach iMovie and Storytelling for Photographers and monitor, and I very much enjoy learning about photography and movie making from the many talented people we have in the Club. In my previous life I taught Biology, Chemistry, and numerous related subject and was a secondary school principal.

I reside in the “North Country” (New York State’s northeastern region between the Adirondacks and the St. Lawrence Seaway) about half the year when I’m not in Green Valley. I continue to be enchanted by the Northeast / Southwest dichotomy. It freshens my vision for more picture-taking than I know what to do with!

Our Club has provided us with wonderful opportunities to continue teaching and learning in retirement, particularly about photography and the local environment and culture. It also provides us the opportunity to belong and contribute to a great organization, and I thank you all for that.

Happy Trails, Holly Chorba

We Need Monitors!

Have you ever wondered how to become a monitor at the club?

Just call Joan at 1-520-419-0438, and she will make sure you are working in no time.

To our current monitors, we all owe you a huge THANK YOU for your volunteer hours! Without you, the club could not be open. Our staff dwindles at this time of year due to the flight of our snowbirds, illness, etc. so we are asking you to consider filling in those “Need Monitor” spaces on the calendar, working two or more shifts per month, and taking morning shifts in the Summer if you usually work only afternoons in the Winter.

Thanks again,

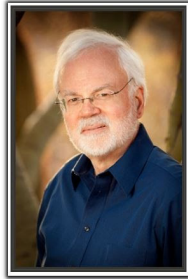

Bob and Joan

Our last Travelogue of the season was a block-buster! Those able to come learned a lot from Russ and Blythe Carpenter about Morocco and about technique, variation of presentation, and obtaining a quality tour guide. Our relationship with France over the decades was portrayed by Don Spear's "Travels along the Seine". Don Lovely gave us an absolutely lovely bird portrait guide-birds in their habitats from Arizona to Montana. Marilyn Scase took us on a tour of Norway...beautiful fiords, ancient sights. Thanks to each of them, and to our other presenters throughout this season, for sharing their travels and their photography work.

Next Travelogue will be November 14, 2017.
Happy Trails Till Then!

April Speaker - Ted Fleming

April 20, 1:30-3pm

An ecologist by training and a long-time amateur photographer, Mr. Fleming spent most of his career as a Professor of Biology at the University of Miami. His research specialty is tropical plant-animal interactions, particularly pollination and seed dispersal mutualisms. He traveled extensively in the tropics for research, always with a camera in tow. Mr. Fleming feels that his photography has really blossomed in the digital age. "I'm particularly interested in 'painterly' images and usually convert my favorite photos into digital paintings under the influence of artists such as Monet, Renoir, Van Gogh, Edward Hopper, Georgia O'Keefe, and Maynard Dixon". He has rather eclectic tastes in his subjects but has not done much landscape photography. Given his background as a biologist, he particularly enjoys photographing wildlife, but also likes to photograph people "doing interesting things".

As an artist, he is often drawn to images that are visually complex (reflecting his lifelong interest in biological diversity) and colorful. He also seeks images that are elegant in their composition or graphic elements. One of his current techniques involves creating photo montages as a way of emphasizing the place of wildlife and people in their natural environment.

A former president of Club Camera Tucson and has photographic images that have appeared in a variety of local galleries and exhibitions, including Tohono Chul, Tubac Center of the Arts, Dove Mountain Gallery, Ventana Medical Services, and Toscana Gallery. Two of his fine art books ('Art in the Park' and 'Bisbee') are available in local bookstores.

You've seen prints mounted on Foam Core in Camera Club displays. Members have been asking for classes or instructions on how to create the lightweight and inexpensive mounts. Thanks to the Multi-Media Special Interest Group, the Camera Club now has an instructional video available that demonstrates the process.
